

Junior Women's Club To Coordinate 'I Have Voted' Campaign

To Distribute Shields To All Who Vote

Officers of the Junior Woman's Club yesterday accepted, on behalf of the club, the challenge of helping to get out a record vote in Monroe County on election day.

In a totally non-partisan effort to make every voter conscious of his or her responsibility, The Daily Record and Station WVPO have combined in a campaign to distribute red, white and blue shields at the polls on election day, reading "I Have Voted, Have You?"

The officers of the Junior Woman's Club at a luncheon yesterday at the Penn-Stroud Hotel accepted the responsibility of coordinating the campaign in the Stroudsburg and surrounding communities so that the shields will be available at every polling place.

As each voter leaves after casting his vote, he will be given a shield to wear, not only as proof that he himself has done his duty as a citizen but also as a reminder to everyone he meets throughout the day that every vote counts.

The Junior Woman's Club officers, in pledging themselves to the task, are counting on their membership of 100 young women. Many of them are mothers of small children, and the committee was already counting on one mother serving as "baby sitter" for several youngsters to free other mothers for duty at the polls on election day. Mothers of very young children were figuring on taking them along in carriages, with the hours outside the polling place as their "airing" for the day. Young women with jobs were volunteering for after-work hours.

In taking up the challenge, members of the Junior Woman's Club were following the example set by their senior club, which held a week-long school of instruction on the new voting machines in local voting districts, last month.

Horace Heller, editor of The Daily Record, and Elton Hall, manager of Station WVPO, pledged the full support of the newspaper and radio in the campaign, and stressed the non-partisan nature of the effort which stresses only the fact that a voter has cast his ballot for the candidate of his choice.

Mrs. Richard Fredenberg, president, appointed Mrs. James Cummings, immediate past president of the club, and finance chairman, as chairman of the project. Others who pledged their support were Mrs. John Sibley, first vice president; Mrs. Warren Mikels, second vice president; Mrs. Chester Miller, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Small, chairman of legislative and public affairs; Miss Brownen Arnold, chairman of publicity; Mrs. William Pipher, hospitality; Mrs. Harry Phillips, of the ways and means committee.

Others of the club who will assist in the project will be announced later by Mrs. Cummings.

U.S. Marines Retake Crest

Seoul (AP)—U. S. Marines today restored all positions in the West, and South Koreans won a swaying action in the center in Korea's fierce "battle of the hills."

Frontline reports from AP Correspondents Milo Farnetti and John Randolph gave these new snippets of the military situation:

One—In the west—men of the U. S. First Marine Division who had been knocked off "The Hook," 10 miles northeast of the true town of Panmunjom Sunday night by 1,500 Chinese Reds, recaptured it and mopped up the last Red resistance at 6 a.m. Without opposition, the Leathernecks retook three outposts overrun in the first Communist rush.

The Marines, who had wrested the main crest in vicious close quarters fighting Monday, fell back last night under withering Communist artillery fire. But early today the Marines recaptured the ground without difficulty.

Two—In the center—about 750 Chinese Reds on the northern end of Sniper Ridge attacked at 4:45 a.m. today, driving Republic of Korea Second Division troops off their foothold on "The Yoke," a Y-shaped Red stronghold. The attacking Reds then pushed up to Pinpoint Hill, the highest point on Sniper Ridge.

After the Reds penetrated the forward slope, the South Koreans counterattacked at dawn. In fierce fighting, the ROKs regained all of Pinpoint Hill then restored their hold on the southern one-fifth of "The Yoke."

The Reds were employing heavy concentrations of artillery fire in both the west and central sectors. One smashed at an Allied-held height in the center two miles east of Sniper Ridge.

Stevenson, Eisenhower Clash On Korea Issue

"THEY WILL HELP. Will you?" might be the caption for the group of officers of the Junior Woman's Club shown above who yesterday pledged their efforts in a campaign to encourage every voter in Monroe County to cast his ballot on election day. With the cooperation of The Daily Record and WVPO they will coordinate plans to distribute "reminders" to each voter at the polls. Seated from left to right: Mrs. James Cummings, who will serve as chairman; Mrs. Chester Miller, Miss Brownen Arnold; Mrs. Richard Fredenberg, president; Mrs. Joseph Small. Standing, same order: Mrs. Harry Phillips, Mrs. John Sibley, Mrs. Warren Mikels and Mrs. William Pipher.

Postponement Of Opening Of Small Game Season Considered Due To Dry Woodlands

Harrisburg, (AP)—The State Game Commission yesterday considered game hunting season, set for Nov. 1, because of dry condition of forests.

"The final decision rests with the governor on whether we postpone the season or not," said Thomas D. Frye, executive director. "But unless there is soaking rain in the next day or so we are going to urge that he suspend the hunting season in order to avoid unnecessary dangers."

Frye said a decision would probably be reached today when officials of the game commission and the Department of Forests and Waters confer on the problem.

The Department of Forests and Waters reported at the same time that the number of forest fires in the state has been "only average" despite drought conditions.

Horace B. Rowland, chief forest fire warden, said nearly 900 forest fires have been reported so far this year, destroying about 36,000 acres of woodland.

"It's only an average year so far," Rowland said. "We generally lose between 11,000 and 39,000 acres of timber. Fires reported run between 600 and 1,500."

Rowland said the worst year on record was 1930 when 4,000 reported fires consumed over 160,000 acres of forest.

V. H. Bearer, head of the three-county Forest District in Western Pennsylvania, said "the forest fire danger is very acute."

New Orleans groped in smog for a while yesterday. Buses, streetcars, air lines and many taxis were halted until normal conditions returned. A smoky odor, from burning brush and grass around nearby Lake Pontchartrain, was detected in many parts of the city.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau said forest fires in Louisiana and Mississippi contributed to the haze.

Fog blended with smoke from 22 forest fires tied up traffic along the Gulf Coast in Southeastern Texas. Weekend blazes in Texas brought destruction tallied so far this year to 70,000 acres.

Dense smoke made driving hazardous in Southeastern Missouri and many minor highway accidents were reported.

Fires in woods or farm fields have been reported in 20 states in New England, the Midwest, the South and the Southwest.

Rebellious Prisoners Seize Seven Guards, Threaten To Kill Them If Cells Stormed

Chester, Ill. (AP)—Convicts at Menard State Prison, scene of an uprising last month, seized a prison lieutenant and six guards as hostages in a new outbreak of rioting late yesterday.

Last night the rebellious prisoners were in complete control of one of the prison's four cell blocks.

Warden Jerome E. Munie called off plans to storm the cell block with 60 armed guards after the rioting prisoners threatened to hurl the hostages off a 50-foot tier.

Twenty state policemen were at the scene and at least 30 more were en route to the prison near its Mississippi River town 90 miles south of St. Louis.

Soon after the rioting began at about 5 p. m., the warden expressed fear the convicts might manage a mass outbreak from the old prison.

The seized guards and the lieutenant, Loren Stewart of Fair-

Smoke Hangs Over Region

A heavy smog hovered over Monroe and Pike Counties yesterday, especially in the mountain regions, alarming residents who feared a huge forest fire was blazing through the parched woodlands.

The pall was credited to blazes in surrounding states by E. C. Pyle, district forester from his Stroudsburg headquarters. Pyle said a southeasterly wind apparently carried the heavy smoke into this section from New York State and possibly from the hard-hit Ohio and Virginia forests.

"In some northern Monroe County communities residents reported they could barely see across the street," Pyle said. "But our wardens checked every possible report, finding nothing in this region."

The local office was swamped with phone calls from alarmed persons but Pyle assured them there were no blazes locally. At the same time he announced all towers in his district are manned and volunteers are on the alert in the event of a blaze.

Assisting Pyle are Ellis E. Brush, at Snow Hill, the state forest ranger; George W. Raish at Tannersville and Forrest C. Evans at Cresco, forest inspectors, all in Monroe County with towers at Long Pond, Big Pocono at Tannersville, Snow Hill at Dancing Ridge and at Delaware Water Gap.

In Pike County towers are located in Westfall Township, Pecks Pond and Dry Meadow. State forest rangers are A. W. Luckey, at Promised Land; Fred Hatton, at Germantown; C. L. Raitt, at Dingmans Ferry and Clyde L. Raitt Jr. at Marshalls Creek. W. B. Jagger, at Edgemore.

Asa K. Shumaker is forest inspector at Portland in Northampton County.

Harlem Gives Big Reception To Governor

New York (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson brought his fighting campaign into New York last night and met a rousing reception in popular Harlem.

Stevenson arrived after a strenuous day in New England, where he charged Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower with promising something he can't deliver—an early peace in Korea.

The Democratic presidential nominee, using strong words, drew generally large and enthusiastic crowds throughout the day as he asserted that Eisenhower had made vote-luring promises of "a quick and easy end" to the struggle and said his Republican opponents "may have delayed an armistice."

But he came into an ever heartier welcome here where a milling throng in Harlem got somewhat out of hand and blocked the route of his motorcade. Stevenson walked a block to get to the speaking platform.

Once there, he swung at Eisenhower again.

The general, he said, has taken a "bewildering variety of positions" on the major issues of the campaign.

As the crowd cheered, he said Eisenhower "speaks with every voice in the Republican party except his own."

Then he added: "And tonight it is by the voice of Sen. McCarthy." This was a reference to the attack on Stevenson last night by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.)

"I speak with my own voice tonight as I have every night in the campaign."

Chief Police Inspector Conrad Rothengast estimated that at least 125,000 people jammed around the Hotel Theresa to hear the governor.

Last Saturday Eisenhower spoke at the same location, Deputy Chief Inspector Patrick J. Curley estimated then that his audience ranged from 15,000 to 20,000.

Two weeks ago President Truman spoke in Harlem at Dorence Brook Square. Two police officers estimated his audience at 100,000. His arrival here was a climax to hours of campaigning in which Stevenson lashed back hard at Eisenhower in New England.

At Providence, R. I., Stevenson said he would "deal mercilessly with any disloyal persons found in Washington."

"The way to find such persons is by the quiet, careful, police work of the bureau of investigation and not by making noisy accusations which have little or nothing to do with finding the Communists," he said as the crowd cheered.

It was the Korean issue, however, which Stevenson hit hardest in his final appeals to the voters in the vital states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut before his arrival in New York City tonight for a major speech in Harlem.

Stevenson charged at Providence that Eisenhower had intimated he could bring the Korean War to a conclusion, without advancing any concrete way of reaching that conclusion. He said this gave the Communists an indication that there is weakness in this country's position.

"The general could still help if he would speak out clearly and disavow the confused voices of weakness in our country," the Illinois governor declared.

At Brockton, Mass., Stevenson told a mid-morning crowd that no one knows how soon the Korean War can be brought to an end.

B-29 Crashes In Filipino Storm; 15 Men Missing

Manila, (AP)—The Philippines' second disastrous typhoon in a week roared into the South China Sea today, leaving three known dead and 17 missing.

Fifteen of the missing were the crew of a U. S. B-29 weather plane. The Guam-based aircraft was last heard from Sunday, flying at 10,000 feet some 200 miles east of Samar Island and about to enter the "eye" of the storm.

Philippine Air Force units today joined U. S. planes from Guam and Clark Field near Manila in the search for the B-29.

The three deaths were reported from Samar, where a ferryboat capsized during the storm.

Last week's death toll stood at 477 last night, and another 460 are missing. Some 400,000 are homeless.

McCarthy Lashes Stevenson, Declares He Endorses Fatal Kremlin-Shaped Policies

Chicago, (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, in a slashing attack on Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and his advisers, said last night that the outcome of the presidential election will decide whether America wins or Communism wins.

The Wisconsin Republican senator charged that the Democratic presidential nominee "is part and parcel of the Acheson-Hiss-Lattimore group" and endorses "suicidal" Kremlin-shaped policies for America and once had a plan for "foisting Communism" on the Italians after Mussolini's fall.

"I do not state that Stevenson was a Communist or pro-Communist, but I must believe that something was wrong somewhere," he said.

McCarthy's much-heralded "Stevenson Story" which he described as a "coldly documented background of this man who wants to be president" was prepared for delivery before 1,150 persons at a $50-a-plate dinner.

Hours before McCarthy spoke, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, campaigning in Pennsylvania, emphasized that subversives must be cleared out of government but in doing so "we have to destroy the reputation of no innocent man. We can do it and must do it the American way." His aides said Eisenhower was making his own position clear in advance of the McCarthy speech.

McCarthy said the Communist Daily Worker eight days ago "damned Eisenhower" and then went on to say "that they did not like Stevenson too well, either, but that if Communists want to vote for Stevenson—okay, vote for him—but vote for no one else on the Democratic ticket—elect local Progressive party candidates and pile up a big vote for those Communist candidates who are in the field."

"This, my good friends, is the Communist jargon which is understood by every Communist writer in this country. This constitutes a complete endorsement and orders the Communist to support Stevenson."

McCarthy also charged that Stevenson, while in the State Department in 1943, had a plan for "foisting the Communists upon the Italians."

There is "no quick patent medicine cure" for Korea, although we can do better than we have done.

Stevenson has suggested the place to settle the Korean War is in Moscow. Eisenhower had this comeback:

"It betrays again the mentality that is completely untutored in the tough business of world relations. It is the cry of men whose formula for dealing with Soviet aggression has been openly stated in terms of 'give and concede.'"

"It is the cry of a candidate who before this campaign changed his tune and who only last May called for what he himself described as a 'prolonged public discussion of what it will be necessary to concede' to Soviet Russia."

"This is a language that invites war itself. Consequently, my most solemn hope is that men who talk this language are never allowed in the name of the American people to go to Moscow—or some future Yalta or Potsdam."

Eisenhower had spent the day drumming away on the Korean issue, declaring subversives must be eliminated from government in "the American way" and trying to recruit Pennsylvanians for what he calls his "great crusade."

"This tired, worn out, shopworn government you have in Washington now must be cleaned out from top to bottom."

He started out in Philadelphia yesterday morning, heading westward with speaking stops at Lancaster, Harrisburg, Altoona, and Johnstown in a final, hard hitting bid for the 32 electoral votes the Keystone state puts on the line a week from tomorrow.

Here in Pittsburgh, the GOP nominee promised that "we will call a halt" to what he said were ruinous administration policies under which wage gains of workers have been cancelled out by higher prices and taxes.

He blamed "Washington interference" for a coal strike and for a 54-day shutdown of the steel industry last spring. The administration, he said, has engaged in "political double-dealing" with labor and its problems.

In this stronghold of the CIO steel workers the general said one compelling reason why a change is needed in Washington is that there must be a policy of "encouraging labor and management to use their initiative to find and broaden the common ground upon which they can agree." And, with a reference to the Taft-Hartley law, Eisenhower said any law which doesn't contribute toward that objective must be changed.

Too Much Drink Causes Death

Goshen, Ind., (AP)—A Goshen man entered a tavern and drank 20 shots of whiskey with Tom Collins chasers.

He went home and drank a fifth of whiskey and seven cans of beer. The Elkhart County Coroner's office listed the man's drinks yesterday in attributing his death to acute alcoholism.

Parents Study French To Keep Pace With Kids

York (AP)—Several parents here have been driven back to the classroom out of self defense. A group of second graders in Devers Elementary School is learning French. It's part of an experimental course that lets the kids learn the language over a 12-year period.

The youngsters apparently were suggesting that mom and pop were dopes because they could speak only English.

So some 20 parents of the tiny language students are enrolled at night classes at the local high school, trying to keep ahead of those little rascals who come home from school and ask, "Parlezvous Français?"

New Polio Foundation Chapter Sets Up Basic Committees

Campaign Planned In January

Twelve basic committees were organized at the second meeting of the county's chapter of the National Polio Foundation in Stroudsburg last night.

Robert W. Jones, of the Philadelphia headquarters of the national foundation, was present as the 15 key workers and officials of this year's program went into a work-session.

He indicated that the scope of a campaign as big as the one planned for next January had a lot of small elements which contributed much to the total effect.

Time of campaigns, weather elements, day-of-week for mailed material, all must be considered, he said.

A number of suggestions for conduct of the campaign, which starts Jan. 2 and continues until the end of the month, were discussed at the session.

Most were set up for future discussion and possible revision.

Miss Helen Kulp, president of the county chapter, and Joe Small, campaign chairman this year, named committees and some committee chairmen last night. Other posts will be filled later.

These committees were organized:

Advisory: Small, Miss Kulp, Jacob Cohen, Gerald Anderson, Sumner Bossler and Mrs. Joyce Pedersen.

Coin Card Sending: Mrs. Warren Mikels, of the Junior Woman's Club, one of three chairmen; two other chairmen will be named, representing the Business and Professional Woman's Club and the Progressive Woman's Club of Saylorsburg.

Coin Card Receiving: Chairman to be named from the local chapter of the American Association of University Women.

Advance Gifts: Radio Publicity; Labor, Corporations; chairmen all to be announced later.

Theater: Mrs. Mildred Weierbach.

Mother's March: Miss Marie Brown, of the Business and Professional Woman's Club.

Coin Boxes: T. D. Hoffman, representing the Elks Club.

Schools: John Litts.

Special Events: Richard R. Fredenberg.

New Plant Opens Today

Delaware Water Gap—A new "war industry" employing 14 men will observe its formal opening here today.

It is the firm of "Delaware Water Gap Industries," a box-making concern which will turn out crates and boxes of various materials for use by the Army Quartermaster, it was reported.

The enterprise was started by partners Nathan Hammerman and John H. Chamberlain of this borough.

The formal opening will be held at 11 a.m. Those present at the ceremonies will include Rep. Francis E. Walter, Burgess Forrest Smith, former burgess Eugene Leffler, and Chamber of Commerce head Jacob Wachtman.

Mrs. Hammerman is serving as secretary of the firm.

Mrs. Blitz, Canadensis, Dies At 74

Mrs. Gussie Storm Blitz, 74, Canadensis, died at the home of Mrs. Seldon Lasher, East Stroudsburg RD2, at 6 p.m. yesterday.

She was the daughter of the late Andrew and Mary Smith Storm, had lived in Monroe County all her life.

Surviving are two brothers, Martin Storm, Canadensis, and Emmett Storm, of Cresco.

Services will be announced by the Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg.

Kesselring Heads 'Steel Helmets'

Cologne, Germany (AP)—Former Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, freed last week by the British from war crimes sentence, has accepted chairmanship of the West German Stahlhelm (steel helmet) Veterans League, the league said yesterday.

In accepting the nomination, the 150,000 member league said, Kesselring declared he would work for the release of all German soldiers still held by the Allies and also would seek a closer co-operation between the various German veterans' organizations.

Ex-Australian Premier Dies

Sydney, Australia (AP)—William Morris (Billy) Hughes, 88, Australia's World War One Prime Minister, died last night. The fiery Welsh-born leader had been in continuous parliamentary service for 57 years—considered a British Commonwealth record.

Hughes suffered a chill shortly after his birthday Sept. 25. Doctors said pneumonia and a congested heart condition caused his death.

It is estimated that the coal reserves of Europe are about 700 billion tons, those of America 7.7 trillion tons and those of Asia, 2.5 trillion tons.

Arrested Man Leaves Stolen Car As Security For Fine

A man left a stolen car as security with East Stroudsburg police when he left "for home" to get money to pay a speeding fine, it was reported yesterday.

The man, Francis Woodward, about 35, of German, Pa., was arrested later the same day by Carbondale city police.

Carbondale police said they had put out a stolen car teletype Wednesday after the theft was reported by the car's owner, Dale Ogden, that city.

Woodward was arrested first in East Stroudsburg late Tuesday night when Officer James Smith spotted him speeding along N. Courtland St.

Woodward was reportedly unable to produce identification. He was held overnight at the borough lockup. Next day—Wednesday—he was taken before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser, East Stroudsburg, for hearing on charges of speeding and disorderly conduct.

He was found guilty. Woodward told Police Chief Arthur Swink he had no money with him, it was reported.

Woodward was then allowed to "go home to get enough money to pay the fine." Then he was supposed to come back and recover "his" car.

Woodward left but failed to return.

Arrested after an anonymous tip by a Carbondale resident to police there, he was questioned about the location of the car.

He told police he had "abandoned it" in East Stroudsburg. The car was claimed by its real owner last Friday in East Stroudsburg.

McGranery, Tobin Urge Rewriting Of McCarran Act

Washington (AP)—Administration spokesmen yesterday urged rewriting of the new McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, assailing it as defective, discriminatory and unduly restrictive.

The law, which does not take effect until Dec. 24, has been the subject of political squabbling during the present campaign. President Truman has attacked it, and accused those who backed it of supporting anti-Jewish and anti-Catholic programs.

Critical views of the law were submitted by Atty. Gen. McGranery and Secretary of Labor Tobin at a hearing by the President's Commission on Immigration and Naturalization.

McGranery told the commission there should be changes to correct what he termed "ambiguities and defects" making administration of the law difficult.

Parade To Start At 7 On Thursday

Fantastically-dressed paraders will hike from Stroudsburg into East Stroudsburg along Main St. Thursday night in a four-division Halloween parade.

Hundreds of marchers took part in last year's parade and this one was expected to be just as big, said Louis Caramella, parade marshal.

The line-up will begin at 6:30 p.m. in Stroudsburg between Eighth and William Sts. on Main St., and partly around the corner onto William.

Paraders will move out at 7 p.m. sharp, Caramella said.

It's an easy matter to take part in the parade and to compete for prizes put up by East Stroudsburg merchants who are sponsoring the affair this year, the parade marshal said.

All that's necessary is for an individual, a group or a float to show up at the line-up. Numbers will be assigned to marchers at that time. Numbers will be necessary so that judges, supplied by the Junior Woman's Club, may identify the marchers.

There will be no parking of autos on the streets where the line-up will be made, Caramella said.

Bands will play—from the American Legion, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High Schools, and Middle Smithfield High School—as the parade moves east on Main St.

The line of march will continue to Washington St., north on S. Courtland, south of Crystal St. (the judges' stand will be on Crystal) then west on Washington to the Armory, where prizes will be distributed and—if the sponsorship by merchants is strong enough—a dance will be held.

Caramella said any organization wishing to enter a float or floats was welcome to do so.

The floats will line up on William St., too.

It was requested that any members of the VFW or American Legion who would like to assist should simply be present a little before line-up starts at 6:30. They will receive instructions on how to help marshal the parade.

Judges will be: Bronwen Arnold, Mrs. Claude Cummins, Mrs. James Cummings, Mrs. John Sibley, Mrs. Howard Preston, Mrs. Chester Miller, Mrs. George Stabenow and Mrs. Charles Boltz.

Funeral will be at the New-fundland Moravian Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Local Boards To Take Over Price Powers

Washington (AP)—Price Stabilizer Tighe Woods is due today to hand over broad new price control powers to local boards.

The newly created local stabilization agencies will have authority to recommend price ceilings, suspend ceilings, and revoke previous orders suspending control in communities across the country.

Woods has said he expects to support local board decisions in 90 per cent of the cases.

Woods has prepared a memorandum for OPS personnel outlining the new program. In it, he made clear that the powers of the local boards ultimately will be second only to those of the director of price stabilization—Woods himself.

A special division, headed by F. William Hart of Atlanta, former regional information director for the rent control program, will administer the local board program.

An OPS official said the first board likely will begin functioning in Sacramento, Calif. He said there are several important local matters awaiting handling in that area.

As a starter, local boards will be named in each of the 91 cities where OPS now has a regional, district or branch office. Woods said he expected ultimately to expand the program to all large communities.

Hospital Bequeathed $650 By Matilda Rhodes Dixon; Staff Member Gives $300

A $650 bequest was received last night by hospital board members from the Matilda Rhodes Dixon estate.

Mrs. Dixon was a Stroudsburg resident for 86 years. She died several years ago.

Her niece, Mrs. Joseph C. Kay, Bridgeport, Conn., and nephew, Grayden A. Rhodes, New York City, visited the hospital in East Stroudsburg Saturday afternoon and presented the check, representing the residue of Mrs. Dixon's estate.

The two were shown through the hospital during their visit. They elected to put the money in the hospital's voluntary trust fund. This fund is held for future needs.

The board also received a $300 gift from a member of the present medical staff who wished to remain anonymous. This money also went into the trust fund.

A report was made to the board by the committee empowered to investigate an auxiliary power plant for the hospital. It was stated that the board probably would decide the type of plant to be selected within the next month.

Mrs. George Hauser, president of the hospital auxiliary, reported that the auxiliary had offered to buy a Kreiselman resuscitator for the use of the obstetrical department.

The offer was submitted to the hospital's "priority committee," composed of members of the hospital medical staff. They will decide if this need is warranted. The resuscitator cost in the neighborhood of $800.

Also considered by the board was the purchase of an electrical cabinet for heat treatment and massage, for use by the physiotherapy department.

There will be a decided drop in emergency road service the past month only 10 local and 21 foreign calls costing $120.60.

The club is sending safety courses of instruction to the public schools of the county.

A total of 26 new members were elected as follows:

Stroudsburg: Mrs. Henri Werkheiser, Bertha J. Kintz, Morris Jacobson, Ann Glenn Lutz, George A. Hartshorn and Mrs. Dorothy Durkee.

East Stroudsburg: Ross L. Wilson, M. D., Mabel Papillon, Jay W. Cortright, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Fritz Jr., Henry B. Shoemaker and John Baymore.

Swiftwater: Alfred S. Haskin, Rudolph VanHoevenberg, Scott: Miss Mary Smith, Echo Lake: Mr. and Mrs. John S. Shinn, Cresco: Simon Wajsfelner, Bushkill: Miss Gladys Thelma Brandt.

Shawnee: Mrs. Dorothy M. Armstrong, Parke W. Unanue, Kun-kletown: Edward C. Doney, Delaware Water Gap: Robert H. Drake, Tobyhanna: William Flaherty, Roseto: Andrew Pagano.

Services for Walter Spencer Freeland, 81, Price Township, were held Saturday at Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, with Rev. Claude L. Heilenman officiating.

Services were followed by cremation at Maple Hill Crematory, Wilkes-Barre.

song as vocalists, "Lollytoddum," a mountain dance song preceded the grand finale, "So in Love," from "Kiss Me Kate."

"I'll Wait for My Love," composed by Tom Waring, received a fine reception. Wallace Hornbrook, also a member of the Pennsylvanians, served as pianist.

Four Brahms' numbers were followed by two old English numbers featuring Toni and James Fogles.

Two Negro sermons in song featured Craig Penberley, of Waring's Pennsylvanians, as the preacher and Jean Ann Wolbert, of Stroudsburg, and Robert Kranendonk, of Shawnee, as vocalists.

The group sang "When Lilacs Last in the Dooryard Bloom," arranged by Norman Lockwood from a Walt Whitman poem. Two songs in Hebrew were then presented with dancing by Miss Conde.

A song of the Netherlands preceded "Ay-Rounde the Corner," a comedy number, and a French lullaby with Sally Peabody as vocal soloist.

Motor Club Leaders Plan Highway Tour

Representatives of the Pocono Mountains Motor Club have been invited by Ralph Boyer, district highway superintendent with offices in Allentown, to make a tour of highways in the Lehigh Valley area Thursday afternoon of this week.

R. LeRoy Dangler, president, and John Crandell, chairman of the local club's highway committee, will make the trip.

It will be recalled the recommendations of the local club's highway committee were submitted at the last meeting suggesting numerous changes to improve regional traffic conditions. It was presumed the committee said, this may have had something to do with the suggested tour this week.

The club will inaugurate a Christmas membership campaign for the coming Yuletide season. Newspaper and radio advertising will be utilized to stimulate the project.

Announcement was made that the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation in June, 1953, would be held at Pocono Manor. The last convention was held at Pittsburgh.

There was a decided drop in emergency road service the past month only 10 local and 21 foreign calls costing $120.60.

Free Tests For Diabetes To Be Given

Plans for finding the estimated 1,000,000 persons in this country who have diabetes without knowing it were announced yesterday by the Monroe County Medical Society. At the same time, the group issued a plea for full public co-operating in this intensive drive to find and control the chronic disease that at present ranks eighth among the causes of death by disease in the United States.

The project has been conducted nation-wide for several years by the American Diabetes Association, a non-profit group which does not conduct financial campaigns, but is devoted to the eradication of diabetes. This is the first year the local Medical Society has cooperated with the project.

The tests for diabetes—absolutely free to residents of Monroe County of all ages—will be given during the week of Nov. 16-22, inclusive, which has been designated Diabetes Week. In Monroe County and over 700 other areas, county and state medical societies will make tests available. Here are the simple moves to be made to obtain a free check for diabetes:

Specimens of urine—not more than one ounce—are to be taken to the office of any physician in Monroe County, the General Hospital, or to any drug store in Monroe County. Each is to be accompanied by a tag or label containing this information:

The name, the address, the age, the sex and family physician. These specimens will be collected by Monroe County Medical Society and tested for evidences of diabetes.

In all cases where the results are positive, the individual and the family physician will be immediately notified.

Specimens should be taken within one or two hours after a meal.

The entire procedure is absolutely free and Medical Society officials said every age is asked to submit a specimen.

Diabetes, according to Dr. John L. Rumsey, chairman of the drive in Monroe County and president of the Medical Society, is the only chronic disease for which there is a known control. Found early enough and treated properly, the disease seldom interferes with a patient's normal, full and active life. Yet, left untreated, diabetes is often fatal, he said.

Dr. Rumsey explained that diabetes, unlike such widely-publicized diseases as polio, tuberculosis and cancer, is often a "silent" ailment which reveals no alarming symptoms.

For this reason, there is a great need for public education regarding the symptoms and prevalence of diabetes, he said.

Delaware Water Gap

N. E. Burd

The John Wilsons Jr. celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Saturday, Oct. 25, by having Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson Sr., Stroudsburg, as dinner guests.

Water Gap friends of Dr. S. H. Mohr, the Methodist minister who has his summer home on the hill toward Wolf Hollow, are interested in his promotion to an important position by the general conference which met at San Francisco this early fall. He is now the executive director of the Office of Promotion, a national commission for the cultivation and promotion of the Methodist Church. This commission has its headquarters at Chicago. Bishop William Marston, of Dallas, Texas, is the chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kulp and family and Miss Emma Blacknik, who has been making her home with them for the summer, spent the weekend in Linfield with Mrs. Kulp's father.

The turkey dinner given by the women of the Presbyterian Auxiliary Thursday night was termed one of the most successful held in the church. More than 100 were served. The Misses Nora Leffler and Barbara Drake were hostesses. Waitresses were Camille Buzzard, Evelyn Widdoss, Susan Heitler, Vera Storm, Annette Kulp and Harriot Carlton. The committee was Mrs. Clifford Hauser, Mrs. John Wilson Jr., Mrs. Richard Carlton, Mrs. Russell Shellenberger, and Mrs. Richard Hauser. They were assisted in preparation and in the kitchen by Mrs. Henry Kulp, Mrs. Herbert Baker, Mrs. George Hauser, Mrs. H. J. LaBar, Mrs. Herbert Buzzard, Mrs. Russell Buzzard and Mrs. Harry Hartman. Chief Gunners Mate and Mrs. Donald Hauser of Princeton, N.J., spent Saturday and Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hauser.

HAYDEN MURPHY, left, and his father, Eugene, 81, examine their sawmill believed to be 180 years old and among the State's oldest still in operation. The mill is located near Effort and was the scene of a fire Sunday night.

One Of Nation's Oldest Sawmills Saved From Destruction By Fire By Neighbor's Alertness

Effort—An alert neighbor was credited yesterday with saving one of the oldest sawmills in operation from destruction by fire Sunday night near here.

The mill, owned by Eugene Murphy and his son, Hayden, estimated to have been built 180 years ago, became engulfed in flames about 9:30 p. m. The neighbor, John Shiffer, notified the Murphys and a bucket-brigade soon was organized and water from a nearby creek quenched the flames. Firemen from Brodheadsville were summoned and aided the group on their arrival.

met last Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. H. J. LaBar. Mrs. George Hauser was appointed to act as secretary. It was decided to have a supper in the hose house sometime in November, the date to be announced later. It was also decided that the auxiliary will sponsor teen-age square dances every other week after Christmas. These will be planned to alternate with the motion picture shows. Mrs. Ruth Hauser presided at the meeting.

Water Gap residents have received a mimeographed letter from Rev. and Mrs. Hubert Newton to thank each individual for their share in the gift given to them before they left for Seattle. Mr. Newton states that besides providing the finger of dexterity for him, there will be enough left to purchase something for their home. Until they get a permanent place to live their address will be just Tukwila, Washington, and should be sent c/o Mrs. Lois Newton.

The birthday of Mrs. Clara Keller, an aged shut-in, is Wednesday, Oct. 29. The birthday of Mrs. M. E. Leffler was Monday.

Miss Seese Is Bride Of G. Delling

Barrett — Miss Alberta J. Seese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Seese of Canadensis became the bride of George Delling Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Delling Sr. of Taffton, Pa., on Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. at McComas Chapel.

Rev. Claude Heilenman performed the wedding ceremony. The altar cross and candles were lighted during the ceremony, and the pianist, Gail Young, played a medley of nuptial melodies before the ceremony.

Miss Gloria Mader, of Swiftwater, served as maid of honor, and Albert J. Seese of Blooming Grove was best man.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, from which they expect to return a different way, Mr. and Mrs. Delling will make their home in Taffton.

The bride is a graduate of Barrett High School, and has been employed at National Drug Co., Swiftwater. Mr. Delling was graduated from Hawley High School and is a truck driver for a lumber company.

SS Workshop Tonight

The teachers' workshop sponsored by the Monroe County Sunday School Association will meet tonight at the Baptist Church in East Stroudsburg. Mrs. Grant Kupper and Mrs. Geraldine Jassin will be in charge. They will demonstrate how they made the material with which they illustrated the Bible stories at the recent Sunday School Convention for those who wish to make a similar material.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Thought I was injured to shock about anything the youngsters might bring home after "Halloweening." Apples with bites taken out of them; sticky candy, hairy from being clutched in mittens; candy bars embedded with nails and other pocket paraphernalia.

But that was when they were young. Surely now it would be safe enough, I thought. So what did they come home with? A kitten, that's what, which some boys had thrust on them and then run, they said.

It's a very wistful and fluffy tiger kitten, and was surely a child's pet that had been kidnapped, they insisted, while it curled up to sleep on the sofa desk. Well, if so, I hope the child's mother calls her bright and early to reclaim her cat, because we're already well supplied with dogs and cats.

All of them resented the newcomer in no uncertain terms all through the night. I don't know, maybe all families are like mine—but it does seem that we live in a series of crises, the like of which you can only find in the United Nations or on the edge of a volcano.

However, taking courage from the Junior Woman's Club officers who seem able to take anything in their stride, even their new Election Day project, guess we'll be able to cope with a kitten. But, anyway, hurry.

Listen to Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:15 a.m.

Girl Scout Camp Is Product Of Many Hands And Hearts

The Girl Scouts' Camp Lloyd Treible on the top of Mosier's Knob, already used for one Summer's day camp and having a full schedule for Winter camping trips for the county's individual troops, is truly a community enterprise.

At the camp dedication which marked the opening of this 1952 National Girl Scout Week, the Scouts acknowledged their debt to the community, and to Mrs. William G. Heller, camping chairman of the Girl Scout Council, who has supervised the camp from its beginnings.

It began with the gift of 15 acres of land on the hillside above Shawnee from Lloyd Treible and his family, and from then on everybody helped, with services, money, time and trouble.

Edward C. Hess surveyed the land; Floyd Butz paid the recording fee; Rinker and Kiefer drew up the plans, and Harold C. Edwards handled the legal end, all on a volunteer basis. Without cost, too, Gershom Litts leveled the ground; Pardee Place excavated the foundations and Harvey Huffman supervised the building construction.

In the matter of materials, too, the Girl Scouts found the community generous. The three lumber companies: Cramer, Frisbie and East Stroudsburg Lumber shared in giving the $350 worth of lumber; Line Material Company furnished the roof and windows; A. Rake and Son, the girders, floor joist and shale; Clifford Munsell donated the paint for roof, homosite board, locks for doors and cinder blocks; other cinder blocks were donated by John Lesone, and Claude Werkheiser. Lloyd Smith gave a load of sand; Tracy Stright, two doors; and the Penn Dell Dairy a milk cooler.

The heatstater for the fireplace, together with brick-work, were the gift of Fred Waring; Hanford L. Cleveland donated the ash pit dump and door and Twin City Distributors the flue liners. The clapper bell, calling the girls together is the gift of Edgar Hartman.

It was the initial gift of $500 from the Kiwanis Club which gave the committee courage to go ahead with the project, and which formed the backlog for early equipment. In addition the Marshall's Creek Fire Company Auxiliary gave $100; B'Nai Brith and Ben Williams contributed $50 each, and Clifford Munsell at the dedication on Sunday gave to Mrs. Miller a check covering final indebtedness on the camp, now debt-free.

Trucks to haul the various material were donated by Thomas Batchler, Elwood Doll, Frank Smith, Fred Rinker and Frank LaBar.

Contributions of time, also, counted heavily in erecting the camp with Paul Edinger furnishing two men, and Bernard Newhart, Pearly Hunt, Ralph Scheier, Stanley Smith, Stanley Hartman, William G. Miller, Harold Smith, H. Treible, Gilbert Scharf, Robert Repsher, John Tredinnick, Louis Merola and Arch Law all worked on the project.

So, too, did the Girl Scout leaders and the Girl Scouts themselves during the early stages of painting the roof panels, serving coffee for the workmen, clearing up the campsite, Boy Scouts Jack Dornbas, Robert Wildrick and John Willhoit also helped in the project.

The Leaders' Association also held bread and cake sales to raise funds for the camp fund. The Girl Scouts are a Red Cross chapter.

Miss Joyce Fox

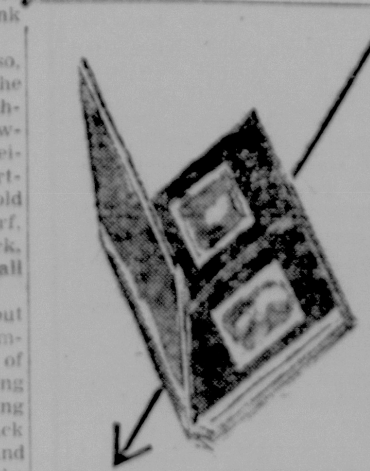

Joyce Fox, Sherman Lang Engaged

An engagement announcement sparked the birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fox of East Stroudsburg on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Fox announced the engagement of their daughter, Joyce, to Sherman Lang, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Lang, of East Stroudsburg.

The announcement was made to the guests as Joyce opened her birthday gifts. The package holding the announcement contained two pillowcases, one marked "His" and the other "Hers", together with pictures of the engaged couple and rings attached to them.

Among those who were present to add their best wishes were ther service, whose operating expenses come from the Monroe County Community Chest, which makes possible the present efficient county-wide set-up. None of the Chest money, however, is spent for capital outlay, so that the Girl Scout camp represents the free-will gift of a community proud of the growing numbers of Girl Scouts and their program, Mrs. Miller emphasized.

Sending birthday gifts but unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. George Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Karcher, of Mount Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schoupe, Mrs. Catherine Hallett, and Miss Shirley Couterman.

Those faces clustered around the store amplifying system at this moment would do justice to a Norman Rockwell cover for Saturday Evening Post. There's Harold Albert, looking grimly expectant; Walter Wyckoff, grinning like a kid with a red fire engine and Baron Rinehart, frowning worriedly. Jack LaBar, star of the show, is concentrating intently on the new store fire alarm. "The next sound you hear," he says into the microphone, "will be merely testing." And everyone brightens appreciably as a pained wail leaps out of the ceiling amplifier. What is there about new things — even fire alarms — that gives everyone such a lift? . . . Never saw anything cuter than the little kitten toys made of stuffed socks now on display down by the candy department. I always wanted a rag doll — maybe this could be a belated substitute. To recall an antique phrase, "They're the cats!"

I notice also that a new shipment of record doll furniture has arrived. Remember, it from last year — the table, sofa and chairs? I recall it had a terrific sale around Christmas time. This is easy to understand, for each set is priced at $1 . . . Everyone who has tried it, tells me that Helena Rubinstein's cream deodorant in the popular Heaven Sent is one of the finest on the market. That's why it was among my purchases of yesterday. Certainly it's cool, soothing and delicately fragrant . . . You know, of course, that Thelma Munk, the Helena Rubinstein representative, is spending this week at Wyckoff's. Why not come in to see her, and ask about the many wonderful preparations to keep you looking your best from top to toe. I never realized until yesterday how many types of shampoo there are — and I'm curious to know just what they'll do for me . . . Edna Saylor just completed a brown and red sock, and has begun another for Christmas giving. If you have an occasional hour on your hands, why not consider taking up the needles for a good cause — (Not that I can think of a cause half as good as Christmas). Here in Wyckoff's we have all the materials you need to hook a rug, crochet a bib, weave an afghan, embroider a tablecloth, or make a dress. And there's something about the things you yourself make that puts them in a class by themselves . . . Tell me, are you able to vote this election? If so, think of it as a privilege and a duty — and make it a point to express your opinion via the voting machine. Wyckoff's is devoting window space to the importance of this great American privilege, and attention is called to the splendid article in yesterday's newspaper, telling you how to use the new voting machines, in the event you did not receive instruction.

Former G.I. Stands Trial For Treason

New York (AP)—In one of the nation's weirdest court cases, a former American Army sergeant stood trial yesterday for treason as a convert to an ancient, stoic Oriental religion.

The defendant, John David Provo, 36, faces the possibility of the death penalty if convicted as a renegade to the Japanese in World War II.

Captured in the fall of Corregidor a decade ago, Provo allegedly shaved his head, donned the robes of the Buddhist priesthood and turned on fellow American captives to single them out for Japanese brutality. One he allegedly named was beaten to death.

Buddhism, a venerable religion of the East, teaches that all life is subject to suffering. It holds forth as its nirvana—or heaven—the release from suffering.

Witnesses from Japan, Australia, Korea, Great Britain and Italy are on call for the strange trial. It opened in the Federal Court-house at Foley Square, a prosaic Western setting half the world removed from the mysteries of the Orient.

Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan ordered the process of picking a jury to proceed after refusing defense requests to dismiss the charges.

The defense argued a lack of evidence and said Provo was cleared of all charges by the fact of his honorable discharge from the Army in 1946.

Moreover, defense lawyers maintained that the crime—if one was committed—occurred in the wartime Pacific, far from the jurisdiction of the Federal Court here.

Provo was brought to trial here because the local separation center is closest to his last post, Fort Meade, Md.

A special panel of 175 persons were on call as jury prospects, and from them a jury of seven women and five men was selected.

Provo, a tall, erect and dark-haired man, was a bank clerk in San Francisco before the war. A native-born American, he made a prewar trip to Japan and later became fluent in the Japanese language.

He entered the Army in 1941 and was assigned to an intelligence unit in the Philippines. There he was captured by the Japanese in 1942.

The government alleges that Provo once studied to be a Buddhist priest and that this was the role he adopted to convince his Japanese captors of his sympathies.

Then, it is alleged, he began a program of propaganda for the Japanese radio.

The 12 charges of treason also cite Provo for allegedly informing on American prisoners as "anti-Japanese and unco-operative."

Wrong Mrs. Litts Identified In Item On Hearing

Mrs. Charles Litts, 21 Park St., East Stroudsburg, said yesterday it was not she who said at a hearing in Milford recently that a relative shot at the group she was with.

Instead, Mrs. Litts said, it was Mrs. James Litts, 179 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, a relative, who gave this testimony at the hearing before Justice of the Peace Mary C. Lohmann last week.

Both women were present at the alleged fracas over an inherited cabin near Bushkill Oct. 4, and both were present at the hearing. Mrs. Charles Litts, however, said she didn't testify at the hearing.

At the hearing another relative and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Avery, East Stroudsburg, were charged with aggravated assault and battery. They were held over for county court action but are free on their own recognizance.

VEE SKOBEL watches happily while new husband Sam Skobel ties one on. Honeymooners pick up Poconos, and Sam, naturally, wound up at a roller rink. Naturally, because he's captain of Roller Derby's New York All-Stars. Vee, on the other hand, was skating for first time in her life. (Daily Record Photo)

Surgery Saves Little Girl

Boston (AP)—Little Pearl Simon of Vermilion, La., left Children's Medical Center yesterday—10 days after undergoing surgery which she said would kill her.

Hospital officials said the 8-year-old girl, daughter of a Bayou County rice farmer, Alton Simon, was in good condition, but would remain in nearby Quincy with friends for about a week for examination. She had been suffering from a heart condition.

Pearl was coaxed into undergoing the delicate operation by her father. She had feared the surgery after she said she talked with God in a dream and he told her it would kill her.

The girl's trip to Boston was financed by a $3,000 fund contributed by Louisiana friends and neighbors. Doctors had said she could live only four more years without the operation.

G. I. Stabbed, Others Hurt

Stuttgart, Germany (AP)—One U. S. soldier was stabbed and several others were hurt in two fights at American Army barracks near here over the weekend. U. S. authorities said last night.

Eighty soldiers were involved in the two melees at Krabbenloeh and Ludwigsburg barracks clubs. Army officials said. They declined to give details of the fights or to disclose names of the victims. Both incidents are being investigated.

One soldier was stabbed in the back and critically injured at Ludwigsburg, the Army said. Two soldiers were arrested in the stabbing.

DeValera May Be Forced To Retire Because Of Health

Dublin, Ireland (AP)—Premier Eamon de Valera, who has dominated Ireland's politics for a quarter century, may soon have to retire from public life because of serious eye trouble, associates said yesterday.

The 70-year-old New York-born freedom-fighter has undergone several eye operations in Utrecht, The Netherlands, recently. He was due to return to Dublin last Sunday but doctors advised him to stay for further treatment.

His closest supporters said yesterday that regardless of the results of the latest treatment, they doubted whether "Deo" would continue much longer as "Taoiseach," or premier.

Major Parties Give Reports On Spending

Washington, (AP)—The Republican and Democratic National Committees yesterday reported their spending since Sept. 1, opening date of the presidential campaign. Their outgo: Republicans $1,370,357; Democrats $943,260.

The Democrats also reported unpaid obligations amounting to $306,383.

The accountings were filed with the clerk of the House, as required by law, and covered their activities up to Oct. 22.

The Republicans reported total contributions of $1,235,827 between Sept. 1 and Oct. 22. For the entire year to date they listed receipts of $2,464,174 and expenses of $2,086,921. The GOP entered the Sept. 1-Oct. 22 period with a $309,709 balance.

The Democrats reported they took in $889,315 during the seven weeks. They started the period with a $183,959 balance.

The Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee said it took in $198,667 and spent $226,352 during the seven weeks.

The Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee reported income of $40,435 and expenditures of $32,790.

The Republican Congressional Campaign Committee listed receipts of $312,587 and expenses of $528,827.

The Democratic Congressional Committee report has not yet been made public.

Eden Still Seeks Iran Agreement

London (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said last night Britain will "go on trying to reach a sensible agreement" with Iran but will never "beg forgiveness."

Expressing regret that Iran had broken off diplomatic relations with Britain, Eden said "it merely makes more difficult a return to friendly understanding with the Persian people."

In an address to the Royal Society of St. George, Eden said a settlement of the oil quarrel is much more important to Iran than to Britain.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

There is still a lot of talk making the rounds concerning Saturday's tussle between East Stroudsburg and Wilson Borough. Even though the game was played 48 hours earlier, discussions were still going on as the afternoon of the game, yesterday. Complaints and conversations dealing with any game usually is pretty dead two days after the contest. However, such isn't the case this time and from the looks of things the trend of conversation will be along the same lines for the remainder of the week.

Stroudsburg fans point out that the officiating at the Stroudsburg-Whitehall battle, on Saturday, wasn't pleasing to all concerned. This column is unable to make any comment along this line, although reliable reports have made their way to this typewriter, because I wasn't present at the closely fought contest. However, I was astonished to see that not a single penalty was called against the Whitehall club. I have and will continue to believe that it borders on the impossible to play modern football without a single penalty being earned. Two smart, tough, quick and determined grid machines can't, in my opinion, play a full contest in perfect fashion, as far as the rules are concerned.

The next meeting of the East Stroudsburg Athletic Association should feature some fireworks, or at least plenty of discussion on the recent football contest with Wilson Borough. Leon Alberts, who suffered torn and bruised neck muscles in the same Wilson battle, discovered yesterday that he had also broken his nose in the same game. However, Leon, who will undoubtedly play a major role in the Nazareth contest, will have two weeks in which to rest and get back into top condition for the contest that may put the Cavaliers into a final tie for the Lehigh-Northampton League title.

Speaking of Nazareth brings to mind the fact that football fever is reaching its highest peak of the season in Bangor, as the Slaters prepare for Saturday's tussle at Nazareth. Although their current records compare favorably with night and day, this writer is confident that Bangor could be the club to upset the charges of Coach Andy Leh, who haven't been defeated in the past 24 games. Nazareth has been tied twice during this string, one of which was a 13-13 deadlock with Bangor last season. Nazareth has another real powerhouse, but the Slaters could be the club to upset the charge.

Billy "Bump" Metzger and Paul "Candy" Miller, injured football stars from Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools respectively, made this week's issue of the Sporting News, under Major Flashes, on page 24. Gene Woodling, Yankee outfielder who appeared as the guest speaker at the first annual Pocono Mountains Little League banquet, is scheduled to undergo surgery in the near future for a slight hernia.

Miller finds receiving second hand information of the East Stroudsburg High football contingent much tougher than actually playing the game. Horace Johnson and Bruce Frantz, both former baseball and basketball stars at Pocono High, are reportedly service bound. Johnson is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and pitched for Tannersville, of the Pocono Mountains League, last summer. Wilson Borough will have big football teams for the next several years, judging from the size of the school's junior varsity squad yesterday.

It might be a good idea at this time to mention the fact that both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools play at home this weekend and both are on the books as night games. The Mountaineers play host to Catsaqua at Gordon Giffels field on Friday, while the Cavaliers are at home with Coplay at Memorial Stadium on Saturday. Both kickoffs are scheduled to take place at 8 p.m. Both local clubs will be taking part in their final night games of the present campaign.

Gene Martin, coach of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College football team, believes that West Chester's second and third teams are stronger than the first ranking gridders for the Rams. However, Martin wasn't at all upset over the 41-0 defeat handed his troops, but on the other hand was very pleased with the manner in which Ed Oliver conducted himself at quarterback. Oliver, up to this time used mainly to kick extra points, has apparently won a starting quarterback assignment for himself this coming Saturday, when the Warriors tangle with Corland.

Even though Saturday is scheduled to be the first day of hunting season, it doesn't seem to have dampened the interest in the Pennsylvania-Penn State grid battle among the alumni of both schools in Monroe County and surrounding territory. Speaking of interest brings to mind the fact that there is more than a passing of general concern in tomorrow's soccer struggle between East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and West Chester.

Eastburg J. V. Wins, Stroudsburg Yearlings Bow

Cavaliers Edge Wilson Borough, 6-0

East Stroudsburg High school's junior varsity football contingent picked up its fifth favorable verdict without a loss yesterday, when Don Bach cracked over from the one-yard line in the final quarter to give the Cavaliers a 6-0 decision over the Wilson Borough yearlings at Memorial Stadium yesterday.

Bach's plunge culminated a drive of 40 yards, that saw the Cavaliers eat up yardage mainly on line plays and wide end sweeps.

The attempted placement for the extra point by Bill Dimmick was off its mark, due mainly to a bad pass from center.

Even Terms

Both junior varsity contingents battled on even terms throughout the game, with each grid machine taking turns threatening before East Stroudsburg finally cracked the big Wilson defense.

East Stroudsburg owns victories over Hellertown, Bangor, Pen Argyl and Stroudsburg in addition to the blue and gold clad Wilson squad.

Yesterday's game ended with East Stroudsburg in possession of the ball near midfield, after Wilson had been held short of a first down at the same spot.

Mexicans Win Show Event

Harrisburg (AP) — The hard-riding Mexican Army team last night won its second straight international jumping event at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show, beating out the United States' civilian team by one and 2/5 seconds.

Mexico, the United States and Canada each finished the eight-obsacle course without a fault for their three entries. Time was the deciding factor for the second straight event at the week-long show.

Keen

The competition was so keen that 13 of the 15 riders from five nations completed the course without a fault.

The Mexicans, led by the veteran General Humberto Mariles, on Petrotero, finished with an aggregate time score of 105 seconds. The three Americans had a total of 106 and 2/5 seconds. Canada, also with three clean rides, took third place with 131 and 4/5 seconds.

Gillo Stops Keating

Holyoke, Mass. (AP) — Mike Gillo, 164, New Haven, Conn., got off the floor in the first round to bang out a seventh round technical knock-out verdict over Irish Frankie Keating, 162, Wallingford, Conn., last night in their scheduled eight-rounder in Valley Arena.

Columbia Mentor Praises Blaik's Coaching

New York (AP) — Columbia's Lou Little praised Army's football team yesterday as the "best we've met" and said Earl "Red" Blaik is doing his greatest job of coaching at West Point.

"I think Blaik's coaching last year and this season is better than in 1946 when he was named 'Coach of the Year,'" the professional Lion mentor told New York football writers at their weekly luncheon.

"It's no great coaching job when a man has material conducive to a winning record. But to bring up new men and move them along as Blaik has done—that is something outstanding."

Building Army, which ran rampant after the war with such stars as "Doc" Blanchard and Glenn Davis, had its entire varsity squad shattered last summer by the academy's cribbing scandal. Blaik was forced to pick up the pieces and begin again.

Howard To Lead All-Stars

Montgomery, Ala. (AP) — Clemson Coach Frank Howard has been picked as one of the southern coaches for the annual Blue-Gray All-Star game December 27.

His selection was confirmed by Blue-Gray headquarters following a story in the Columbia, S. C., Record.

Zulueta Decisions DeMarco

Brooklyn (AP) — Orlando Zulueta of Cuba outboxed a ring-rusty Paddy DeMarco last night to gain a 10-round split decision verdict over the Brooklyn lightweight contender at Eastern Parkway Arena.

Left Hook Zulueta, scoring repeatedly with a left hook to the body, recorded the 14th upset in 230 main bouts at the Arena despite a three-pound disadvantage in the weights.

DeMarco appeared too slow to counter the storm of blows.

Major League Figures Speak At Banquet

Tatamy—A total of 160 people attended the first annual Slate Belt Hot Stove League banquet here at the Fire House last night and heard three outstanding speakers relate their experiences and other top notch baseball stories.

Joe Paparella, veteran American League umpire, was the featured speaker of the program and spoke mainly on umpiring and his various experiences since entering baseball and the umpiring business.

Jack Farrell, energetic member of the New York Yankees' front office, related many stories that were well received by the large audience.

Frank O'Rourke, chief scout for the Yankees in this area, spoke on the Bronx Bombers and just why they have won more pennants and World Series than any other club in baseball.

Scouting

O'Rourke also spoke on scouting and the part it plays in the success of a major league organization.

Hayden Pritchard, chief Burgess of Bangor, served as toastmaster for the affair and was introduced by Nick Vito, president of the Slate Belt Hot Stove League.

Father Charles Sweeney, C.M., of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Bangor, delivered the invocation, while the benediction was given by Father George Krook, C.M., of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Roseto.

Eight boys present at the affair were presented with baseballs autographed by the featured speakers.

The large gathering also took part in a songfest.

In addition to Vito, other officers of the Hot Stove League who helped make last night's affair a success were Dominic Spagnola, vice president; Tony Cistone, secretary; and Carl Hutchinson, treasurer.

The main course of the banquet was turkey, served country style. Plans call for the Hot Stove League banquet to become an annual affair.

Six Members Of ESSTC Football Squad On Present Injured List

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College didn't completely shake the injury jinx that has hung over its football team this season last weekend, but the Warriors did emerge from last Friday's 41-0 loss at the hands of West Chester in better physical condition than in previous contests.

Jack Morris was the most seriously injured ESSTC griddler at West Chester, receiving a gash in his nose that required several stitches to close.

Don Toth, who has been on and off of the injured list all season, was sick during a portion of the West Chester game and Ted Murray is still hampered by a bad ankle.

Marlin "Ducky" Martz, former East Stroudsburg High star, is still hampered by injuries, as is Charley Shaw, outstanding defensive halfback.

Art Schaare is still bothered with a bad knee and his future status is in doubt. However, all those on the injured list, except Schaare, are expected to be ready for action on Saturday, when the Warriors tangle with Corland State Teachers College, at Corland, N. Y.

Morris, Toth and Murray didn't take part in yesterday's light drill, but are expected to report for practice later in the week.

While the varsity took part in light drills yesterday, those who didn't appear in the lineup against West Chester were put through a scrimmage.

ESSTC is currently sporting a record of two victories and three setbacks.

Warriorettes Meet Lock Haven

Coach Katherine Griffith will send her East Stroudsburg State Teachers College field hockey squad out to a defeat this season today, when Haven, on the latter's home field. The game is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p. m.

The ESSTC team is scheduled to leave the Normal Hill campus at 8 a. m. for the long trip. Ursinus and Panzer have fallen before the Warriorettes thus far this season, but the Bald Eagles of Lock Haven would like nothing better than to halt the ESSTC streak today.

Coach Griffith is expected to stick with the same lineup that has been largely responsible for the two victories.

Durando Floors Lott

Providence, R. I. (AP) — Ernie Durando, 150, of Bayonne, N. J., knocked out Freddie Lott, 166 1/2, of Newark, N. J., last night in the seventh round of a scheduled 10 rounder in the auditorium.

"Army is the best team we've played this year," declared Little, whose Lions have lost decisions to such ranking eastern powers as Princeton and Pennsylvania, bowed to Yale and defeated Harvard. Columbia and Army played to a 14-14 tie last Saturday, Columbia scoring on a desperation pass in the final 15 seconds.

"If I were Georgia Tech, Army's foe for two weeks hence, I would have apprehension about this game. Army is dangerous."

Mountaineers Fall Before Palmerton

Palmerton — Stroudsburg High school's junior varsity football team went down to its second straight defeat and the second in four outings this season yesterday, when the charges of Coach Bill Wilcox dropped a 20-7 decision to Palmerton's yearlings, here on the winning contingent's home field.

The Blue Bombers held the upper hand from start to finish, as the home squad used a series of reverses, reverse passes and flat passes to set up all three scores.

Palmerton broke the scoreless deadlock with seven points in the first period and then led 14-0 at halftime, after scoring seven more points in the second quarter.

End Run

Stroudsburg accounted for its only score of the game in the final quarter, when Bert Kleinle raced around end for 12 yards and a touchdown. The end sweep culminated a drive of 50 yards. Paul "Doc" Lim accounted for the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

Palmerton also accounted for another touchdown in the final period, but was unable to add the extra point this time.

Stroudsburg has one more game remaining on its schedule, with Slatington supplying the opposition at Gordon Giffels field on Monday, November 10.

Lineups follow:

Alberts Adds Broken Nose To Injured Neck In Latest Count

Reports coming out of the East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High School football camps yesterday indicated that the three injuries mentioned previously were the extent of the casualties in the Saturday football wars for the two schools.

West Chester Back Third In Scoring

Philadelphia (AP) — Villanova's pile-driving fullback, Bob Haner, scored 16 points against Xavier last weekend to take over the collegiate football scoring leadership in Pennsylvania with a total of 58 points, the latest Associated Press survey disclosed yesterday.

Helps Team

Haner helped his team to a 34-20 victory over Xavier by scoring two touchdowns and booting four extra points. Harry Miller, the early season leader from Kings College was idle last week and holds second place with a nine touchdown total of 34 points. Haner has scored seven TD's and converted 16 extra points.

Earl Hersh, speedy West Chester back added a six point conversion to his impressive total to take third place with a 53 point record on eight TD's and five extra points.

Storrs, Conn. (AP) — They were calling Quarterback Don Panciera of the Chicago Cardinals football team a copycat on the University of Connecticut campus yesterday.

Panciera threw three touchdown passes and set up a fourth in a losing cause Sunday as the Pittsburgh Steelers topped the Cardinals 34-28.

Panciera's kid brother, Irv, threw three touchdown passes and set up a fourth Saturday night for Connecticut against Delaware in Wilmington. There was one difference. Irv Panciera's team won its game, 25-13.

Owen Fails To See Single
Soft Touch

New York (AP) — Steve Owen, coach of the New York Giants who is nursing the bruises of his second straight defeat, said yesterday "there's not a soft spot in the whole league."

Talking about the National Football League race at the weekly meeting of New York football writers, Owen said a team must be "up" every week to win consistently and he has been unable to find the formula for that. The Giants lost to the Chicago Cardinals, 24-23, last week and to Philadelphia, 14-10, Sunday.

Examples
"Look at those Pittsburgh Steelers," he said. "They lost their first four games by a margin of 14 points and look what they did to the Cardinals they won, 34-28."
"And the Washington Redskins had the Cleveland Browns down 13 to 6 at the half before finally losing, 19-15. Only San Francisco is riding high. Hugh McElhenny, freshman fullback, has been a big boost to them."

Punchless Wonders Of Pacific Coast Circuit
Lead Parade Toward Host Spot In Rose Bowl

Los Angeles (AP) — The so-called punchless wonders of the Pacific Coast conference—Southern California and UCLA—lead the west's parade to the Rose Bowl yesterday.

For the Big Ten it could be Purdue, Michigan or almost anybody except Illinois, come January 1.

SC and UCLA, the two local schools, seem to have hit on the same formula simultaneously: old-fashioned, rock-em-sock-em, play-for-the-breaks football. It has paid off in six straight victories for each, with last Saturday's performances most convincing.

Not even SC's quiet-spoken coach, Jess Hill, expected the Trojans to hold hard-running California scoreless. Yet Troy's doughty defense kept Cal out of the 30-yard line all afternoon in winning, 10-0.

Without Ace
The Bruins of UCLA held Wisconsin to 48 yards rushing in coming off with a 20-7 victory. Moreover, the Bruins used their ace, Paul Cameron, only five minutes to achieve the surprising win.

Psychologically, the Bruins are in a tough spot this weekend. They meet California, which should be raring to come back at Berkeley while SC has a bye. UCLA head man Red Sanders hopes to have Cameron ready for a full-game effect, and may need it.

Purdue, paced by pitching Perry Samuels to a 40-12 win over Illinois, went to the head of the Big Ten class. But demotion seems likely this week from the conference.

The University of Michigan, which took its lumps earlier from Michigan State, remained undefeated in conference play with a 21-0 win over Minnesota. The Wolverines face Illinois Saturday. The Illini, last Rose Bowl winners, are the lone Big Ten team which cannot qualify under the non-return policy.

File On Mantle Forwarded To Surgeon General

Oklahoma City, (AP) — The results of a draft physical given Mickey Mantle, ace New York Yankee outfielder, have been forwarded from Ft. Sill to the Army's surgeon-general in Washington for review.

In the past, when physical examination findings were sent to the surgeon-general, the procedure indicated rejection. Normally when a draftee passes, his papers are sent to his local draft board.

Capt. John W. Turner, executive officer in charge of the Oklahoma City recruiting station, where the papers were sent from Ft. Sill, declined to comment whether Mantle had been accepted or rejected.

No Announcement

Turner said only that outcome of the physical could not be announced until after the Ft. Sill findings had been reviewed by Washington.

In Washington, the surgeon-general's office said the file had not been received yet.

The 21-year-old Commerce, Okla. slugger, took his third draft physical here last Wednesday and then was sent to Ft. Sill for a more comprehensive check by post surgeons.

Tuesday Night

Hershey Acquires Jap

New Haven, (AP) — Winger Frank Toyota, only player of Japanese descent in organized hockey, has been sent to the Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League by the New Haven Nutmegs of the Eastern Hockey League. New Haven coach Tony Hemmerling announced the shift yesterday.

Jumper Falls Dead

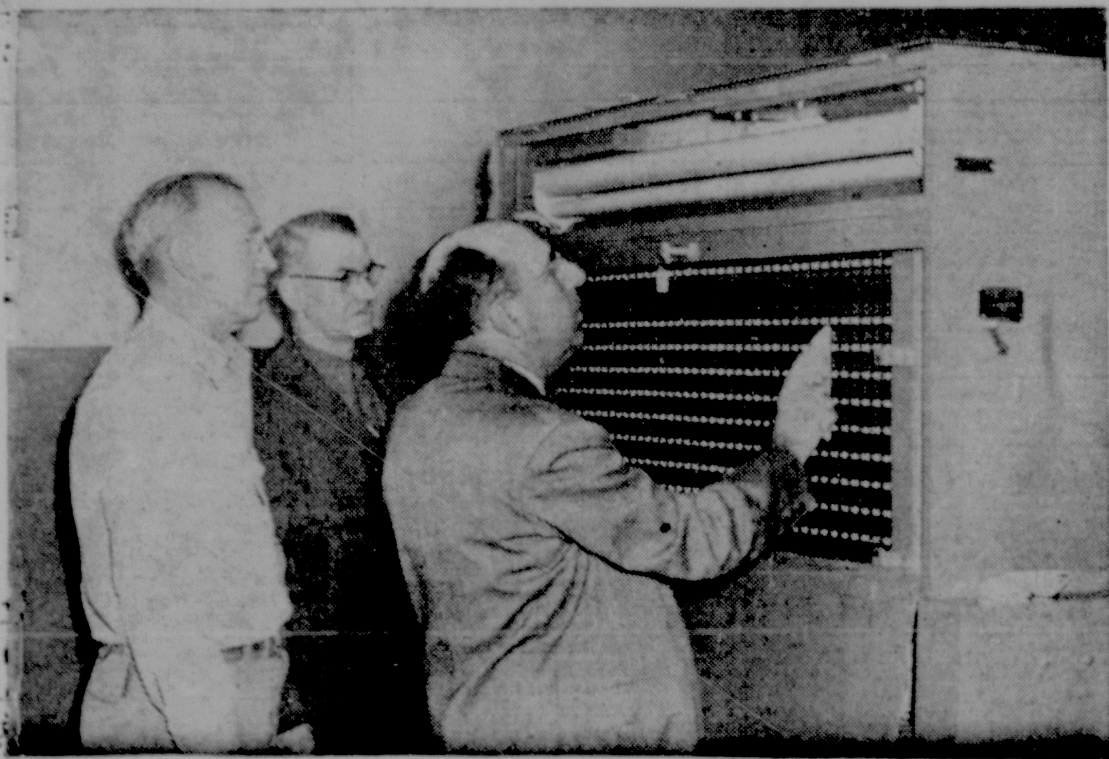

Harrisburg, (AP) — Blarney Castle, a 22-year-old roan gelding, fell dead in a stall yesterday after competing in a jumping event at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show.

Fire Sweeps Stable

Louisville, Ky., (AP) — Sixty-eight thoroughbred horses worth about $250,000 burned to death in a fire that destroyed Douglas Park's biggest barn Sunday night.

CHIEF CLERK HARRY TAYLOR sets voting machine counters back to zero with a wooden gadget supplied with the machines. County personnel have been given a course in operation of the machines and how to set them up for elections, by a factory representative, Roy Anderson (center). Looking on is another of the county's newly-trained experts, courthouse janitor Harry Walton (left). By last night, machines were all set.

Armistice Day Ceremonies Planned Here

Armistice Day ceremonies will be held in both Stroudsburg High School and East Stroudsburg Junior High School, it was announced yesterday by Howard Mount, chairman, and Earl Palmer, assistant.

The Stroudsburg school will play host this first year of the annual services, with the site alternating each Nov. 11.

Veterans organizations and their auxiliaries will be represented, assisting in the program. Units will form on N. Courtland St., in East Stroudsburg, near the high school, and march to Stroudsburg High school for services.

The American Legion will place a wreath at the American Legion Home in East Stroudsburg and another at the doughboy monument in Stroudsburg. Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will assist. Services will be conducted at the Stroudsburg memorial to veterans, with further details scheduled to be announced later.

Gas Industry Tells Of Squeeze

Atlantic City, N. J. (AP)—A gas industry leader yesterday said government regulation is hurting business and making it difficult to raise money for expansion.

Charles E. Bennett of Pittsburgh, president of the American Gas Association, said the gas industry is being squeezed by "run-away costs and an inevitable lag in the granting of permission for

Voting Machines Placed Under Seal Until Election

All of the county's voting machines will be put under official seals Saturday after having been set up for the Nov. 4 election.

Last of the machines were set up yesterday. This process includes setting the pointers back to zero, and loading rolls of paper into the machines for write-in votes.

The official sealing party will leave the court house at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, led by Chief Clerk Harry Taylor, and accompanied by court house janitor Harry Walton and voting machine factory representative Roy Anderson.

County Chairman John Brislin of the Democratic Party and B. K. Williams of the Republican Party have been contacted, Taylor said, and invited to have a representative from each party accompany the sealers to help with final inspection of the machines before the seal is put on.

The group will go from the court house to Middle Stroud, to Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Smithfield and Barrett polling places. The job will take less than a day.

urgently needed higher rates."

He told the association's 34th annual convention "unless more people understand the impossibility of doubling labor costs and doubling material costs without commensurate increases in our product's selling price, then the nation will never receive the ultimate advantage of gas service."

College Man Suffers Mild Concussion

A 19-year-old East Stroudsburg State Teachers College student was treated for a mild cerebral concussion in the dispensary at Monroe County General Hospital over the weekend. According to the hospital report the student, John Moran, apparently was pushed in a friendly scuffle, struck his head on an iron bedpost in the dormitory and knocked unconscious. After treatment he was ordered to stay over night in the college infirmary.

A two-year-old Stroudsburg boy, William Staples, of 28 Stofflet St., was treated for first and second degree burns of the left hand and right wrist after he brushed against a hot stove.

John Butts, 4, of Clark Summit, RD., suffered a laceration of the left scalp when he fell while running and struck a rock.

John Fargo, 24, of Lansdale, RD1, suffered abrasions and lacerations of the face, scalp and a slight contusion of the left knee in an automobile accident. The report said Fargo apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car and ran it into a light pickup truck.

A Mount Pocono youth, Charles Sansenbach, 20, of 70 Fairview Ave., bumped his hand against an automobile door and fractured a bone in his right hand.

Math Teachers Meet Tonight

The Monroe County Mathematics Teachers will meet in Oakes Hall, Room 9, State Teachers College, at 7:30 tonight. Julia Sieg, president, will preside. Edward Bosman will relate his experiences during the summer months spent at the General Electric School in Schenectady, N.Y.
